

UP Human Resources Learning and Management Services has become a company in which the other work processes were outsourced after ensuring satisfaction by its service given in a lot of both native and foreign companies. Supplying different kinds of work functions by only a third party service supplier (BPO) means a single service definition and a reaching key solution services within a single invoice.

The method is to provide the front office, renting, human resources, finance, technological and accountancy services only by a single source.
